

Hardware Trade-In Form

Overview

Honeywell Safety and Productivity Solutions (HSPS) offers a trade-in program for its mobile computers and printers with the purchase of qualifying devices. In exchange for like working devices that meet the criteria set forth below, the HSPS program provides an additional year of service when the customer purchases a three- or five-year service contract for a newly purchased device. To qualify, eligible devices that are returned must be returned to the designated HSPS center (See #4 under Certification) and must meet the following conditions.

1. Mobile Computers must power on and have a readable display with no cracks or signs of physical damage.
2. Printers must power on, have a readable display and a working printhead with no missing pixels.
3. Devices must be on the published list of devices eligible for return.
